Singer has a Ph.D. in American Studies from Rutgers University-Newark and an M.F.A. in Creative Writing from Fairleigh Dickinson University. She relocated to California in 2020 where she is presently teaching writing and boxing while working on her next book project about the Great Migration in the LA area. Her book, Alien Soil: Oral Histories of Great Migration Newark was published in August of 2024 by Rutgers University Press. She has also co-authored the memoir of a previously incarcerated writer, Maurice Tyree, entitled The Darkest Parts of My Blackness: A Journey of Remorse, Reform, Reconciliation, and (R)evolution with Lived Places Publishing, also out in August.
